

Adventures Topic Homework

This term there are two parts to the homework:

As part of our topic we would like the children to produce a project on anything that sparks their interest about 'The Victorians'. As with previous homework this can be presented in any creative way they like (some ideas to get them thinking are below).

We look forward to seeing them and being able to share them as a class. Please can the children bring their projects into school by Monday 12th February.

The second part is to research and find/make a costume for a Victorian child, ready for our 'Victorian School Day' on the 2nd February. The children will come to school dressed up in their costume on the day.

Also on the 28th March we would like to invite parents to come into school at 2:15pm, so the children can share with you the work that they have been doing this term.
